Justice for the injured. That's what Michael Bryant has provided his personal injury clients since 1991. A graduate of Gustavus Adolphus and William Mitchell College of Law, Bryant is the owner of the St. Cloud law firm, Bradshaw & Bryant. He was in court working his first case just two days after being sworn in.

Even before college, Mike knew he wanted to help people. When working on a political campaign, he witnessed how an assistant attorney general protected farmers from foreclosure and was impressed with her work. He decided that helping people as a lawyer is what he wanted to do.

Mike has always had an interest in law and politics and enjoys representing clients to achieve positive results.

"Whether it's fighting for their personal rights or making sure their benefits are paid, these people deserve a voice," says Mike. He often testifies at the legislature to protect the personal injury rights of all people in Minnesota and has written numerous articles on the subject.

Editor of the fifth and sixth editions of The Practitioner's Guide to No-Fault (UM/UIM), Mike represents the rights of uninsured and underinsured injured motorists throughout the state. He also helps those who suffer from traumatic brain injuries, as well as families in wrongful death cases.

This father of two has been named a top consumer lawyer and voted a top 40 personal injury super lawyer. He is a certified trial lawyer by both the National Board of Trial Advocacy and the Minnesota State Bar Association.
